

Software & Services

IDI has been in the consultation business since its beginning. Cost reduction, industry regulations and compliance, customer privacy, and process improvement are just a few things that our customers wrestle with on a daily basis. Our objective is to be your partner in addressing these pain points and alleviating the stress they cause for your business.

Enterprise Content Management (ECM)

On Premise - Digitech PaperVision® Enterprise

Securely Manage Information to improve business efficiency. Control, access, and increase information security using a simple, searchable Enterprise Content Management (ECM) system. Enable automation and tracking of business processes throughout the information lifecycle.

Cloud Based - Digitech ImageSilo®

Conveniently store and access data online without capital costs. Enjoy 24/7 online data access without additional investment in hardware, software or IT personnel. Outsource Enterprise Content Management (ECM) with this massive, ultra-secure, proven service.

Digitech PaperVision® Enterprise WorkFlow

Automate document routing to streamline business processes. Make standard business operations easy to execute and easy to manage by electronically routing documents, alerting users of pending work assignments and tracking progress step by step using PaperVision® Enterprise or ImageSilo®.

Formatta® E-Form Software

Formatta is an electronic forms management suite that enables the rapid design and publishing of e-forms that retain the structure of paper versions. These e-forms allow users in any location to securely capture forms data and share it with people, business systems and the ECM/EDM application-removing paper, reducing turnaround time and speeding processes across the enterprise.

Consulting & Professional Services

At IDI, not only do we offer software tailored to your organizational needs, we consult with you to ensure a seamless transition from a paper-based to a PAPERLESS entity. Our team partners with your executive, management, and front-line staff to simplify and improve your existing business processes. We become your trusted partner to streamline your workflow and maximize your efficiency.

"IDI has allowed us to concentrate on our core business, without having to worry about the work we have outsourced to them. IDI has helped to increase the timeliness by which our notifications are delivered and feedback processed. We can definitely say that we'd highly recommend IDI to anyone. This has been an excellent business partnership in an area we had not previously pursued. Our employees work extremely well with the IDI team, creating great value for our company and our clients."

Deb D. -
Human Systems
Development